

COMMUNITY WORKSHOP FOR SURVIVORS OF SUICIDE LOSS

GRIEF AFTER SUICIDE:
Finding Hope and Healing
John R. Jordan, Ph.D.

Surviving the suicide of a loved one is a potentially life-changing ordeal that requires all of the resilience that a survivor can muster, and all the support that family and community can provide. This workshop will cover topics such as the impact of suicide on individuals and the family as a group, some of the myths of grief recovery, things that survivors can do to help themselves, and when to seek professional help.

The workshop is geared towards people who are grieving the loss of a loved one to suicide, but will also be of value to those who wish to support a grieving survivor, and to professional caregivers such as therapists and clergy who are working with survivors.

YMCA Geneva Park

Wednesday, October 11, 2017

6:30-8:30 PM

Dr. John R. (Jack) Jordan is a licensed psychologist in private practice in Pawtucket, RI, U.S.A., where he specializes in working with loss and bereavement. He has specialized in work with survivors of suicide and other losses for more than 35 years. Jack has provided training nationally and internationally for therapists, healthcare professionals, and clergy through the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, and as an independent speaker. He has also helped to organize and lead dozens of healing workshops for suicide survivors. Jack has published over 50 clinical and research articles, chapters, and full books in the areas of bereavement after suicide, support group models, the integration of research and practice in thanatology, and loss in family and larger social systems.